A FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION IN KAISERSLAUTERN, GERMANY.

Herstelle on the Weser, July 9, 1908.
To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Dear Sir.—Enclosed you will find a short report of the Fourth of July celebration in Kaiserslautern. After visiting the Munich Exposition, I paid a short visit to Mr. Krafft, one of our former citizens, and as his guest attended the celebration. Yours etc.,
A. H. OEHLERT.

The celebration of the Fourth of July, arranged by the newly-organized club of German Americans of this city, consisting of 75 members, was a grand and remarkable success in every point of view. It was attended by over 3,000 people, and took place two miles outside of the city at a very cozy summer resort, located in the midst of a beautiful forest. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the members of the club, with their ladies and the invited guests, assembled at the clubhouse in the city which was decorated most tastefully with the American and German colors, heard an excellent band of 20 pieces play the "Star Spangled Banner," and then in teams drove out to the festive grounds where extensive arrangements had been made to amuse the children with all sorts of plays, and while the band was playing American airs the little ones amused themselves to their hearts' delight.

At 7 o'clock the members with their ladies assembled in the banquet hall to partake of a sumptuous supper in honor of the birthday of the great American republic, and the enthusiastic toast that was drunk to our country was followed by a hearty "hip hip, hurrah."

After supper the members again mingled with their guests in the woods, which were beautifully decorated and illuminated with hundreds of lamps in American and German colors.

At half past 8 o'clock the official proceedings were opened by Mr. Louis Krafft, formerly of this city, with a beautiful poetical prologue, eulogizing the country of his adoption and the friendship existing between the fatherland and the United States and his remarks were again and again enthusiastically applauded.

The next speaker was the acting mayor of the city, who explained in appropriate language the purpose and the meaning "of the day we celebrate." He cited the historic remarks or Patrick Henry in the assembly of Virginia, "Give me liberty or give me death," which created long and continued applause. His interesting sketch of the struggle for liberty by the thirteen colonies, of the enormous development of the United States since then and the part the German element took in this development, was listened to with great attention and interest, as was also his reading of the "Declaration of Independence" in German, translated by Mr. Krafft. He spoke of the historic friendship existing between the two nations, of their relationship and the mighty tie of civilization and culture between the two.

His closing remarks were followed by tremendous applause and a hearty "hip, hip, hurrah," after which the band played "Hail Columbia."

The second part of the programme consisted of recitations in English and German and of American and German songs beautifully rendered.

To the great delight of all present a young lady, costumed as "Columbia" in the American colors, recited the poem, "The Flag of the Free." A little girl of 6 years recited several American poems in a touching manner and her song, "What Mother Learned Me," was heartily applauded.

About 11 o'clock there was a fine pyrotechnic dislay in the woods, and the day's festivities closed with a grand ball under the direction of a French dancing master.

The celebration was thoroughly American in every respect, and one long to be remembered by those who had the good fortune to participate in it.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Oat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March, 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

YOUNG WOMAN BEHEADED.

Grete Beier, the 18-year-old daughter of the mayor of Freiburg, Saxony, was beheaded Tuesday night some time between dark and dawn, in punishment for the murder of the man to whom she was engaged to be married.

The personality of this young girl and premeditated murder of her fiance, a civil engineer named Preffier, attracted international attention. The social position of her family was very good, and she became engaged to Preffier, a rich young professional man.

At her trial it was brought out, and she admitted with simplicity, that she visited her fiance's house one evening, gave him cyanide of potassium in a drink she mixed for him, and then, to make sure of his death, shot him in the mouth with his own revolver.

She then dropped the weapon at the dead man's side, placed a forged will in her own favor on his desk, together with a note of good-by, also forged, saying that he feared to lose her love through the revelation of a dishonorable liaison.

In addition to these papers the young girl also left behind a package of forged letters purporting to come from a woman in Italy, accusing Preffier of desertion and threatening to tell Grete everything.

These forgeries were so skillfully done that they deceived the police and coroner. Grete fell under suspicion about a month after the crime through a love letter she wrote to an unworthy man, hinting at what she had done. The letter was found on this man's person when he was arrested for a misdemeanor.

Over Thirty-five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 23, 1908.

THE CITY of Chester, Pa., has been the scene of an instructive object-lesson in the effects of the free use of boycotting and its value as a strike weapon. For three months a strike of the Chester street car employees was supported by a rigid public boycott against the traction company. The result has been the paralyzing of the city's trade, depreciation of values, the piling up of a heavy public debt and the final repudiation of the boycott by public opinion. The citizens of Chester are contemplating a general paralysis of trade, a weakening of credit, a loss of population through the departure of hundreds of people thrown out of work and a consequent depreciation in property values; the city and county are facing a heavy increase in debt owing to the expense of handling the strike and a bill for damages and expense directly connected therewith which will foot up between $200,000 and $250,000. At present Chester is busy counting the cost of its three months' experience. It has come to the conclusion, regretfully, that the game is not worth the price. More far reaching than these visible effects of the strike, however, are others which are bound to affect the recovery of the city's former prosperity. These are the loss of credit and confidence; the shaking of the community's reputation as a place where law and order are enforced and property is safe. A large industrial plant which was planning to locate in Chester and which would have given employment to several hundred men, has decided, since the strike disorders, to go elsewhere. Lack of confidence on the part of the directors in the security of property in Chester was the reason assigned for the change in its plans.

THE republican party would appear to be very solicitous about the wage earners of the country and especially declares in the national platform, just adopted, its purpose "to maintain the high standard of living of the wage earners of this country who are the most direct beneficiaries of the protective system." That sounds well, but can hardly deceive the average workingman, who from experience knows that if he is "the most direct beneficiary of the protective system" the sooner that system is reformed the better it will be for him. There is no doubt that the tariff protects the manufacturers and that it has fostered trusts and created monopolies. There are also evidences that the tariff has had a hand in creating the panic and the resulting business depression. Senator Foraker recently declared in a speech to the members of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce that "there is still a cloud hanging over the business of the country, that cannot be removed by the resolutions of a Sunshine Club" and that the fear of tariff reform makes business generally uneasy. There are also a good many uneasy workingmen, for Senator Foraker said that on July 31, 1907, there was work for 20,000 more men in Cincinnati than there were workmen to do it, but the mercantile agencies of Cincinnati now informed him "that there are now in Cincinnati from 20,000 to 22,000 idle artisans—men who work at trades, skilled labor, and the highest classes of labor, so to speak." This acknowledgment by such an eminent republican leader that the wage earners are hunting a job instead of the job hunting them, hardly shows that they "are the most direct beneficiaries of the protective system." If they are it shows that the protective system is a delusion as far as wage earners are concerned.

THE U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, at Chicago, yesterday, as stated in the Gazette of that day, overruled the fine of $29,240,000 imposed on the Standard Oil Company of Indiana by Judge Landis, and the government may try again. The decision of Judge Landis never seemed to bother the Standard company for a minute and it has kept right on in the even tenor of its way since it was haled into court. It is generally believed that it will be a cold day in August when the Standard Oil Company pays a fine for violating the country's laws. Following closely the decision in favor of the Standard Oil Company the Chicago Daily News says: "Bankers who have close affiliation with the Standard Oil Company state that the organization will soon announce an increase in the capital stock of $100,000,000, making the total capital stock $600,000,000."

KENTUCKY night riders burned three Illinois Central stations because the railroad allowed troops to camp on its land. These night riders are bringing discredit upon Kentucky, yet the authorities of that state seem to be making but little effort to suppress them.

NOW that he has found that republican protection is intended only for the trusts and monopolies that prey upon him the time has come for the American farmer to protect himself.

MR MELVILLE E. INGALLS, the railroad magnate, said at Hot Springs Tuesday that it will make little difference with the railroads who is elected president. Inside of a month after election he said, things will settle and the country will become prosperous. So mote it be.

REPORTS from all over New York show that the Independence League is going to pieces. The members are going to vote for Bryan.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

As the result of a series of telegraphic communications between the governmental "trust busters" the Department of Justice today began a study of the present situation with a view of taking an appeal from the decision of the circuit court of appeals, in Chicago, in which the $29,000,000 fine, imposed by District Judge Landis, was set aside. This appeal would take the form of application for a writ of certiorari. There will be no hurry in deciding the matter. Should an attempt be made to secure a review of the case by the supreme court of the United States no action can be taken until that court meets on October 12. Solicitor General Hoyt, despite the opinion of the attorney general, seems to be inclined to the course of making application for this writ. The department of justice has been quite successful in getting the Supreme Court to consider the appeals to it by the government for review of criminal cases, and the solicitor general points out that the department would have precedent for the writs. Should the writ be granted or denied it is the opinion that the various prosecutions of the standard would be hastened. If the department decides to take an appeal, it is more than probable that the Chicago case will not be pressed for the present. Similar rebate prosecutions of Standard are now pending in the eastern district of Tennessee, and in the western district of New York and it is likely that the department would concentrate its energies in one of these districts.

The president's yacht, Mayflower, escaped without injury in the collision with the schooner Menaus early yesterday morning while returning the president from Oyster Bay to Newport, according to information received at the Navy Department today from Newport. A court of inquiry has been ordered by Acting Secretary of the Navy Mason to investigate the facts of the collision. The Newport dispatch states that the Mayflower was delayed slightly by the accident and that the schooner was abandoned several miles southwest of Faulkners Island. Her main mast was carried away leaving her jib and foresail set. Her red lights was burning brightly when her crew abandoned her and went aboard the Mayflower. The tug Chickasaw has left Newport in search for her.

Further testimony to the fact that the revolution in Honduras has come to an end is furnished by dispatches which have been received by the State Department from Commander Maxwell of the American cruiser Marietta.

Mr. Matsui, counsellor of the Japanese embassy, today reported to the State Department that the emperor of Japan had ratified the treaty of arbitration between that country and the United States. The exchange of ratifications will take place in this city in the course of the next month. He also reported that the exchange of ratifications of the treaty governing trade marks in Corea and China will be made some time during August.

Capt. Griffin, commanding the American cruiser Peducah, which in not at Port au Prince watching over American interests in Hayti sent his first report to the State Department today. He says that the situation there is not quiet. There have been no recent fires but it is calculated that fully 1,200 houses were destroyed in the recent conflagration which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

From the time the American government took possession of the old French canal company's property, on the isthmus, in May 1904, up to the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1908, the total amount of excavation has been 40,938,575 cubic yards, according to official reports received at the office of the Canal Commission today. The total of all excavations for last year was 27,979,275 cubic yards, considerably more than half of the total.

Senor Creel, the Mexican Ambassador, was in conference with acting Secretary of State Bacon today over the Central American situation. The ambassador stated that freshadvices indicate that conditions in those countries are growing more favorable, with a more peaceful outlook. There was no need of American or Mexican intervention, he said, and the government of Honduras was capable of handling its own troubles.

Some uneasiness is felt by the State Department officials for the safety of William F. Doty, the American consul at Tabriz, Persia. No news has been received since Monday, when he sent the one-word cablegram "anarchy." Consul Doty's laconic description of the situation as "anarchy" undoubtedly referred to the conditions in the city, following its capture by the revolutionary tribes, but it is considered strange that he has not followed his brief message with more details, especially as the State Department only last week was in communication with him expressing anxiety for the safety of the American missionaries in his district.

Maj. Frank H. McIntyre was promoted today from assistant chief in the office of the Bureau of Insular Affairs to assistant chief of bureau. Capt. George H. Shelton, of 11th infantry, is transferred from duty with the general staff to relieve Maj. McIntyre in his former detail.

All the vessels of the Atlantic fleet, with the exception of the Minnesota, are reported to the Navy Department as having sailed yesterday from Honolulu for Auckland. The Minnesota remained for mail and will leave today to rejoin the fleet at sea.

The Chesapeake and Ohio train bearing William H. Taft from Hot Springs, Va., to New York, whence he is to proceed to Oyster Bay to consult with President Roosevelt regarding his speech of acceptance, passed through Washington at 6:55 this morning. Mr. Taft is due to arrive at the west 23rd street station at 1 p. m.

President Roosevelt and his party arrived at Oyster Bay, N. Y., from Newport this morning at 6:45 o'clock on the Mayflower. This afternoon about 3 o'clock he will hold a conference with Mr. Taft on the latter's speech of acceptance.

Having a shrinking against a ceremonious wedding in church or elsewhere, Evelyn Walsh, only daughter of a Colorado millionaire, and Edward McLean, son of John R. McLean, of Washington, yesterday eloped from Wolhurst, Colo., the bride's home, to Denver, twenty miles, and were quietly married at St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Right Rev. David H. Greer, who was bishop coadjutor of New York until the death of Bishop Henry C. Potter, Tuesday night at Cooperstown, now becomes bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York. Bishop Greer enters immediately into the office of the bishoporic, no additional consecration being necessary. Bishop Greer was born March 20, 1844, in Wheeling, W. Va.

The Prince of Wales landed at Quebec from the British cruiser Indomitable yesterday amid the deafening roar of guns from the international fleet of British, French and American warships and the tumultuous demonstrations of 50,000 people massed upon the wharves and the terraced heights of the city. Elaborate plans had been made for the prince's reception, all of which were carried out.

The Olympic championship in field and track was practically clinched by the American athletes yesterday when they took first place in the finals of the 400-meter hurdles and the running broad jump, and second place in both these events and in the 100-meter dash, adding 19 points to their score, while England had to be satisfied with a single point, won by Treemer, who took third place in the hurdles.

Through their state committee the democrats of Pennsylvania yesterday repudiated the action of the Denver convention so far as it related to the party affairs in that state. The committee adopted resolutions declaring that Col. Guffey, and not James Kerr, is the regularly elected national committeeman and the real leader of the Pennsylvania democracy. Senator George M. Dimeling, a firm friend of Guffey, was re-elected state chairman by acclamation.

VIRGINIANS IN LONDON.

Writing to the Times-Dispatch from London, Rev. T. C. Darst, Rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Richmond, gives the following about Virginians and the recent church conference.

"The Lambeth Conference opened with a solemn and impressive service in the ancient Cathedral at Canterbury on Saturday, July 4th, and in Westminister Abbey on Sunday, July 5th. The 250 bishops from all parts of the world, who make up the conference, met for their opening communion service. The sessions of the conference are now being held daily in the library of the Lambeth palace, the residence in London of the archbishop of Canterbury.

"One of the prominent speakers at the first session of the conference on Monday, July 6th, was the eloquent and scholarly bishop of Southern Virginia, the Rt. Rev. A. M. Randolph, D. D., LL. D., of Norfolk.

"The sessions are strictly private, but many of the results of the deliberations will be made public later on.

"The American delegates to the late Pan-American Congress and the American bishops, who are attending the Lambeth Conference, still continue to receive much warm-hearted hospitality from the English people, and are very much in demand at garden parties, receptions and more serious meetings during the week, and for the pulpits of the leading churches on Sundays.

"On Monday, the 29th of June, Bishop Gibson presided at a garden party meeting at Cliveden, the beautiful country home of William Waldorf Aster, the bishop who has been dividing his time between Fulham Palace, the home of the bishop of London, and the town home of the Astors, is now, with his chaplain, the Rev. Thomas C. Darst, of Richmond, visiting the bishop of St Albans, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Jacobs, so pleasantly remembered in Richmond, who has his official residence at Woodford Green, Essex, near London.

WANTS STRONG NAVY.

President Roosevelt arrived at Newport, R. I., yesterday and in the forenoon at the Naval War College addressed a conference of nearly 100 naval officers, representing all branches of the service, to consider plans for new American battleships.

President Roosevelt made an appeal for a strong navy. His principal observations were the following:

"The one unforgivable offense in any man is to hit soft. War will only be excusable if the nation intends to hammer its opponent until that opponent quits fighing. To be rich, aggresive, and unarmed is to invite certain disaster and humiliation. The Monroe doctrine unbacked by a navy is an empty boast If we have a coast-defense navy only we had better at once turn over the Panama canal to some stronger and broader nation give up Hawaii, give up Porto Rico, give up Alaska. If we are ready in very fact to hold our own, the chances become infinitesimal that we will be called upon to do so. We do not want any navy at all if it is not a first-class one. The theory of certain of our fellow-citizens that one can permanently follow a policy of peace with insult is erroneous. If we claim for ourselves the right to choose who shall come here * * * it cannot be upheld by words. It can be upheld only by possession of an efficient fighting navy."

Indictments Returned.

Chicago, July 23.—The federal grand jury returned indictments against 29 alleged "get-rich-quick" concerns, involving the use of the United States mails to defraud clients out of $5 000.000. A dispatch from Roanoke says there is considerable excitement among parents of Salem with small children over a disease known as infantile paralysis, which has appeared in that town within the past two weeks. Physicians say the disease is caused by a germ, but is epidemic rather than contagious. A dozen of the cases have developed at Salem and one death has resulted. Many families have sent their children out of town.

The drought under which Virginia has been suffering for more than a week was partially broken yesterday afternoon when a general rain swept over the state, soaking the ground in many sections and effectually banishing the heat wave. Crop conditions are much more hopeful now than they were yesterday morning, although the harvest will be considerably curtailed by reason of the drought.

Baby Vaughan, a foundling, the victim of two mysterious poisonings, died Tuesday night at the City Home, at Richmond, supposedly at the hand of some person thoroughly familiar with the surroundings. The first attempt to poison the baby was made on Tuesday of last week when a woman, now an inmate of the home, was the only person present. Corrosive sublimate was used. The child was still in a precarious condition when on Sunday chloroform was administered. The child was brought to the home on May 13, when only nine weeks old by its mother, who gave her name as Mrs. Frances Vaughan. The woman and her infant were accompanied to Richmond by a man, through whose instrumentality a home was found for the child. The mother said she was an actress and that she was on her way to fill an engagement in Philadelphia. The police believe the mother of the child is a prominent society woman in Richmond.

SHOT BY DESPERADOES.

Eleven persons were shot last night, three of them probably fatally, by two desperadoes, who on being pursued by policemen and a crowd of citizen fled for two miles through a thickly settled district of Jamaica Plain, a part of Boston, firing madly right and left, and disappeared in the woods near Franklin Park. The men are believed to be two of the gang of three who robbed a saloon in Jamaica Plain Tuesday night, after killing one man and wounding two others in a wild West "gun play." Mrs. Delia Fallon is one of the most seriously injured of last night's victims. She was standing in front of her home, with her baby in her arms, when the two men, pursued by a crowd, came down the street. As they passed her one of them fired, and the bullet entered her head behind her right ear. Her condition is critical.

A dispatch from Boston today says that the posse in pursuit of the desperadoes shot and killed one of them and captured the other.

CHANGING SENTIMENT.

Oliver Goldsmith's "Deserted Village."

Goldsmith in his "Deserted Village," spoke of a certain chapel where those who "went to scoff, remained to pray." So in life one often laughs at what he does not understand and later, when he does understand, his laugh turns to praise. There were some who doubted the merits of Newbro's "Herpicide," the scalp germicide and hair-dressing; but since they have tried it, they are now among its best friends and strongest endorsers. Herpicide kills the germ that eats the hair off at the root; and the hair then grows again. As a hair dressing it is incomparable.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 69

Today's Telegraphic News

The Prince of Wales at Quebec.

Quebec, July 23.—Cannon boomed and thousands of spectators cheered lustily here this morning when the Prince of Wales, surrounded by an escort of Royal Northwest mounted police, left the citadel to return the visits of the officers of the British, French and United States battleships at anchor off this city.

But not even the hurrahs for the prince, hearty though they were, could equal the outburst in honor of a little grizzled man who rode in the royal train. "Bobs! Bobs!" "Good old Bobs!" they shouted as the hero of a hundred battles rode by, and even the prince seemed ready to lend his own cheers to the demonstration to Lord Roberts. Arrived on the king's wharf, the prince entered a launch and rode out to the vessels which, dressed from stem to stern in waving flags, and with their crews manning every spar and yard, waited to receive him. Visits to Admiral Curson-Howe, on the Exmouth; to Admiral Jauregiberry of the French fleet, and to the United States battleship New Hampshire, occupied the time until luncheon.

This afternoon the historical ceremonies of the tercentenary will begin with the arrival of Samuel de Champlain on a reproduction of the Don de Dieu, the little vessel on which the great explorer sailed into Quebec harbor 300 years ago. With his crew he will, on landing, proceed to the Habitation de Quebec, a reproduction of the first building erected here by Champlain.

From that point will start the great pageant which will be reviewed by the Prince of Wales from the Champlain monument on the Terrace.

Here a civic address will be made to the prince by the mayor of Quebec, and addresses of representatives of France, Canada and United States will follow. Tonight the governor general will give a stag dinner in honor of the prince.

Thaw in Confinement.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 23—Harry Kendall Thaw is now practically kept in solitary confinement in the county jail here. In addition to transferring the prisoner to the regular jail and giving him a bed in a cell, Sheriff Chanler today announced that Thaw was to receive no more visitors except his wife, his mother and Charles Morschauser, his counsel.

Mr. Morschauser stated today that Thaw lost $1,800 yesterday on a stock transaction because he was not allowed to use the telephone.

After half an hour's visit with Thaw this morning Mr. Morschauser had made no complaint against the rule, but would make the best of the situation. Thaw is no longer allowed to play the organ in the jail, and it has been locked up. It is said that this was done because Thaw's playing annoyed "Stub" Griffin, who is being held to await the action of the grand jury on charges of larceny and burglary. When Thaw was playing the other day Griffin objected with the result that the organ was locked up.

It is said that Sheriff Chanler made the statement to a friend that if he could do it he would prevent Thaw from having his meals sent into him and would make him live on bread and water. Thaw was ill last night and had to be attended by a physician. It was stated that the trouble was not of a serious nature.

Planning Against the Sultan.

Constantinople, July 23.—Developments today show that the plot within the sultan's palace to dethrone him and place his brother, Mehemmed Reshad, in power, is much more widespread than at first suspected.

According to Goltz Pasha, the German officer in charge of the sultan's military forces, whose real name is Baron Von Der Goltz, there is not a member of the palace guard who can be trusted. Hundreds of arrests of persons suspected of complicity in the plot have been made.

The young Turkey party in Macedonia today supplemented the ultimatum of Niazi Bey with a message to the sultan that unless a constitution is granted within 11 days, it will assume the civil administration of Macedonia, as well as the military.

In view of the increasing dangers that beset him and the lack of sufficient military force to combat them, it is believed that the sultan will carry out the intention, expressed yesterday, of granting a constitution with the hope of abrogating it as soon as peace is restored.

Ancient Order Hibernians.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Friends of Matthew Cummings, of Boston, candidate for re-election as president of the A. O. H., said today they would be able to tell by evening whether Cummings will be elected over J. P. Dolan, of New York, although the election does not occur until tomorrow. Delegates are being sounded out today. Doland's strength seems to have grown over night. He has been vice president four years and was president four years prior to that.

In his annual address, President Cummings predicted that before many years the Catholics will control this country and that the church will be the mainstay of the republic. One thousand guests will gather around the banquet board in Tomlison Hall tonight.

Will Ask Rehearing.

Chicago, July 23.—The government will ask a rehearing of the Standard Oil case before the Circuit Court of Appeals within thirty days. United States District Attorney Sims said today:

"We will file a petition for a rehearing of the case before the Circuit Court of Appeals within thirty days. If the court denies this, we will push the prosecution of all the cases against the Standard Oil Company. The fight has just begun."

The cases against the company will be taken up as quickly as possible. The first one to be heard will be the Tennessee case, the trial of which begins at Jackson, Tenn., November 3. This case which involves 1500 counts will be prosecuted by Special Counsel James H. Wilkerson for the government.

Stetson, widow of the Philadelphia hat manufacturer and philanthropist, became the Countess Santa Eulalia, wife of the Portuguese count of that name, who is a decendent of royalty, consul for his country at Chicago and a sculptor celebrated throughout Europe The wedding took place at the Stetsons' country home, "Idro," on the Old York road, near Elkins station.

August Eberhardt Arrested.

Paterson, N. J., July 23.—August Eberhardt, wanted in connection with the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Ottilie Eberhardt, near Rochelle Park, on Saturday night and who is said to have robbed her of $2,500, was arrested in this city this morning. When found he was suffering from a gunshot wound in the left leg. He had no money on him when found. He wore no coat nor hat and was hardly able to walk.

When asked how he came to be shot, he said that a gang of Italians had met him in the mountains and after taking what money he had had shot him. Eberhardt would not say how much money he had. He was hurried to the General Horpital where his wound was attended to and later brought to police headquarters where he was put through a series of questions. "I took a walk on Saturday with my aunt and cousin, Opelis, who had arrived a few days before from Austria," he said. "We came to New Jersey and were walking along a railroad in the vicinity of Hackensack when suddenly I heard a shot and saw a flash like of a revolver, from behind a freight car. My aunt shrieked and fell to the ground. Other shots followed and I was struck on the head with a heavy blunt instrument, and that is all I remember until the time I was shot and robbed." Eberhardt said that at the time he heard the pistol shots he had a revolver in his pocket. He had no gun on his person when found today.

He was arraigned before Justice James Carroll on a charge of being a fugitive from justice. He was then turned over to Chief of Police Dunn, of Hackensack, and Prosecutor Koester and taken to Hackensack.

Eberhardt has been in this city since Sunday. Sunday afternoon he was seen walking past police headquarters and recognized by Matron Ellen McCann. Mrs. McCann said that he was uninjured then.

The police believe Eberhardt had accomplices, and detectives are searching the mountains in an effort to locate Eberhardt's assailant.

The Olympic Games.

London, July 23.—The breach between the athletes of England and the United States increases with every day of the Olympic meet.

At the opening of today's programme it was evident that the English and Colonial athletes had formed an alliance against the Americans. While the bitterness between the two has hardly been sufficient to warrant an official interference, it was plainly evident to the big crowd and provocative of hooting and sarcastic remarks from spectators and athletes alike. Today London papers were filled with communications from resentful Britishers who emptied their vials of wrath upon the United States athletes for their charges of unfairness against the Olympic management.

Of course, Great Britain refuses to concede that the United States athletes lead, still clinging to the one point for firsts as the only system and counting every event. Still she can't get over the fact that in the regular Olympic events the Americans had 75 points to her 47 1-3 or 65 1-3 if the ridiculous tug of war and the points made by Canadian, Australian and South African athletes are added to her total.

The storm of hatred between the English and American competitors in the Olympic games broke this afternoon in the running of the final of the 400 meters race.

In the first running of this race Carpenter and Robbins, two Americans, who fihished first and second respectively, were charged with forcing Lieutenant Halswell, the pride of England, off the track at the last bend of the course. The race was voided on this account and a terrific outburst of "booing" from the English sections greeted the heat.

It was charged that Carpenter and Robbins prearranged the scheme to defeat Halswell, and the race was ordered re-run.

The hostility of the crowd toward Carpenter and Robbins continued for half an hour.

Escaped Lynching.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 23.—Cowering in a cell in police headquarters Fred McLaughlin, who claims Lowell, Mass., as his home, shivers and shakes with the sound of foot steps. That he is alive today and not swinging from a tree in Kirk Park, a victim of lynch law, is due to the heroism and determination of Syracuse police. McLaughlin is charged with attacking 6-year-old Irene Lockwood. The child with her parents had attended a picnic and strayed away. A little later two women heard the child cry. The sound was from weeds nearby, and soon afterwards McLaughlin emerged with Irene behind him. The man's appearance aroused their suspicions, and they soon had him under arrest. In her baby way the child told what had happened and cries of "lynch him!" came from all quarters. A squad of officers detailed in the park fought off the frenzied mob and landed their prisoner in the back room of a saloon while they telephoned for help. McLaughlin was finally hustled into the wagon and rushed to the station.

Virginia Carolina Chemical Co.

New York, July 23.—Contrary to expectations, no financial plan was submitted to the stockholders of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. at their annual meeting in Jersey City yesterday. An official statement was made about a month ago that a plan was under way for a bond issue of approximately $15,000,000. One of the financiers identified with the company said yesterday, however, that this entire plan had been abandoned by the directors. Officials have just returned from an inspection of the corporation's plants in the southern States and they express themselves very optimistically regarding its affairs and the future possibilities for business. In the circumstances it was felt that the company did not require new funds, especially since a satisfactory price for bonds could scarcely be obtained in the present market. The retiring directors were re-elected. The old officers also will be re-elected subsequently by the board.

Top of His Head Cut Off.

Coatsville, Pa., July 23.—Samuel Chilcott, aged 20 years, son of Mrs. Harry Miller, of No. 3876 Wyoming avenue, Philadelphia, met a terrible and peculiar death here yesterday. He was employed at the boiler works, and was working in a flue, which was being held up off the ground, when a chain broke and the top of his head was severed.

Mimic Warfare

Camp Hays, Gettysburg, Pa., July 23.—Led by Colonel J. B. Correll, commander of the Sixth regiment Pennsylvania National Guard, the Brown army today began an advance on Gettysburg to wrest the town from the control of the blue forces under Col. Hamilton D. Turner.

The boys in blue marched as far as Willoughby's Run, took up a defensive position and prepared to meet the apposing army. The battle was long drawn out and was an exceedingly good imitation of the real thing.

Officers Fight.

Honolulu, July 23—Lieut. Frank T. Evans, son of Admiral Evans, knocked down Lieut. Commander J. F. Carter, of the battleship Georgia, in a fist fight aboard the Georgia Tuesday night, according to the statement of the alleged witnesses today. A report of the affair to the Navy Department is expected. Both Evans and Carter refused to discuss the matter and a strong effort is being made by the officers of the fleet to suppress it. It is said that the men engaged in a hot dispute on the deck of the Georgia, that the quarrel led to blows and that Evans struck his superior in the face, flooring him.

Threatened With Gangrene.

Lemans, France, July 23.—The injury to the arm of Wilbur Wright, the Dayton, O., aeroplane experimeneter has taken a sudden turn for the worse and a further postponement of his trial flights here which were to have begun today, have been found necessary. Wright is now threatened with gangrene as a result of the burns to his arm in the explosion of his aeroplane motor several weeks ago.

The market continued strong and active all through the forenoon until at midday prices ranged in many cases 2 to 4 points above Wednesday's closing.

Forty-two members of Company G, 70th Virginia Regiment, left this city at 6 o'clock this morning on a Southern Railway train from the intersection of King and Henry streets, for a ten days' camping trip at Chickamauga Park, Ga. The company was in command of Capt. F. L. Slaymaker.

The command assembled at Armory Hall at 4:30 this morning when final arrangements for the trip were made.

At 9 o'clock last night, after the company had placed all its stores in chests at Armory Hall, Capt. Slaymaker received a notice from Capt Murphy and Lieut. Demaine, officers of the old company, that all the chests in the armory were the property of the old company, paid for with private funds, and were not to be removed from the armory or used in any way.

After having received the notice Capt. Slaymaker put his men to work transferring the stores into gun chests and other available boxes. Later the old chests were loaded into a wagon and the company under command of Capt. Slaymaker, followed the vehicle and had the chests placed on the sidewalk in front of the establishment of Lieut. Demaine, of the Alexandria Light Infantry. The affairs attracted some attention among the people on the street. When a second load was being brought by the wagon it was stopped at King and Columbus streets by Lieutenant Demaine.

He asked the driver where he intended to deposit the chests, and was told by the latter that they were to be placed in front of his house. The lieutenant warned the driver of the consequences of such a procedure, threatening him with arrest. The company of soldiers were a short distance west of Columbus street while the colloquy was in progress between Lieutenant Demaine and the driver, and they double-quicked to the spot. Captain Slaymaker told the driver that he was under his (not Lieutenant Demaine's) orders. The driver, however, was disposed to respect the lieutenant's protest, and refused to proceed any farther. The members of the command then removed the chests from the wagon and carried them by hand to the front of the lieutenant's place of business, which adjoins the residence of his father and himself. After making a pyramid of the chests a lantern was placed upon the apex and the soldiers left for the armory. Captain Murphy had the chests removed to his premises this morning.

The incident caused considerable comment last night and has been the source of conversation among many persons today.

Captain Murphy says if Captain Slaymaker had hauled the chests to his residence, he could have had them piled in a large yard, and no harm would have been done. As it is, the captain had them carried to the residence of Lieut. Demaine, which is shared by the lieutenant's father. Captain Murphy regarded Captain Slaymaker's action as spectacular and inexcusable. He further says that had an application been made for the use of the chests it would have been granted.

RIVER NOTES.

Owing to the fact that the boilers of the steamer St. Johns, which runs between Washington, this city and River View, are out of commission, that steamer has recently been towed by a tugboat to and from the resort.

The Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company has filed a libel against the steamers Harry Randall and Queen Anne for repairs. The company's bill against the Randall is for $4,293.52, and against the Queen Anne $714.88.

The schooner Edwin R Hunt, after discharging a cargo of 1,500 tons of ice at this port for the Mutual Ice Company, left today in tow of the tugboat Mitchell Davis for Baltimore, where she will load coal for Porto Rico.

A school of sturgeon came up the Potomac river Tuesday. Three of the fish were caught at different points on the river, and it is estimated that they will yield about 900 pounds, valued at 40 cents a pound. The fish were carried to Washington last night, consigned to local firms.

The barkentine Albatross, from Port of Spain with a cargo of asphalt for Washington, arrived up this morning in tow of the tugboat Mitchell Davis and anchored off this city.

The schooner Mary E. H. G. Gow, from Boothbay with ice for the Mutual Ice Company of this city, has passed in the capes.

THE DOG NUISANCE.

The dog wagon, after having made a few rounds, has been laid up. In the meantime the ownerless dog nuisance is still a source of complaint with many. Some of the canines roaming the streets are vicious, and at times cause apprehension among people compelled to pass them. A few days ago a gentleman whose calling compels him to visit all quarters of the city daily was attacked by dogs in different sections. Others have recently had similar experiences.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Cary B. Hawkins, a Southern Railway brakeman, who fell from the roof of a moving freight car on Union street yesterday and fractured his skull, died late in the afternoon at the Alexandria Hospital. Coroner S. B. Moore issued a certificate of accidental death. The remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of William Demaine & Sons and prepared for burial. The unfortunate man was a native of Lynchburg.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is especially good for piles. Recommended and sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Ladies fine Oxfords, Court ties, and Colonial ties, Tan, Patten Kid and Vici reduced. $2.50 grades $1.98. $3.50 and $4.50 grades $2.98. J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

ELKS' DRAMATIC CLUB.

Notwithstanding the heavy rains so badly needed to bring new life to a parched and withered vegetation which have visited our city the last two evenings the sun loomed up over the Maryland hills this morning resplendent with glory to pay its tribute to the occasion of the excursion of that genial, merry-making organization known as the Elks' Dramatic Club. The young people composing this club have vied with each other in the endeavor to make their initial excursion a success, and judging from reports a most amusing time will be the lot of those who go down the river with them to night. In their selection of the day for the outing, nature could not have shown herself to better advantage. As to the steamer, the most magnificent of the Potomac fleet has been their choice—the commodious and palace steamer Jamestown. The members of the club will be at the wharf tonight with tickets. The steamer will leave the Prince street wharf at 7.30 p. m., returning 10 30. Children's tickets on this occasion will be 25 cents. In addition to the sweet music furnished by the boat's band the Alexandria Mandolin Club will enliven the occasion with several selections. A quartette of good singers will entertain the excursionists with plantation melodies, and last, but not least, the lady with the $5 goldpiece will be present ready to bestow it on the lucky one, which will add to the merriment.

JUDGE NICOL TO MARRY.

At a dinner given in Warrenton last night at which Judge C. E. Nicol was present, his engagement to Mrs. Florence DeCosac Nash was formally announced. The wedding is to take place on August 3rd. Mrs. Nash is a native of Charleston, S. C., but has a summer home at Warrenton. She is of an old Huguenot family and at the battle of Waterloo one of her ancestors fought under Napoleon while another fought under Blucher. Judge Nicol is well known and highly esteemed throughout the state and is the recipient of the hearty congratulations of his many friends.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases was disposed of this morning.

William Adams and Charles Connors, charged with vagrancy, were fined $5 each, or given 20 days on the chain gang.

Edward Jackson and Collie Cole, both colored, charged with assaulting Essie Jackson, were dismissed.

George Wager and James Brown, both colored, charged with stealing brass belonging to DeW. Aitcheson, were fined $5 each.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW.

The street department is now engaged in cleaning the streets and alleys of the city, and the police department has given notice that the law will be enforced against all persons who may hereafter cast rubbish of any sort into the same. It is hoped that no one will be found guilty of such infractions in future, so that when the city shall have been placed in a sanitary condition it may be kept so by the united action of the authorities and the citizens generally.

AMUSEMENTS.

The interest in moving pictures is on the increase judging from the crowds which nightly attend the places where they are exhibited. The Alexandria Amusement Company will tonight present two new reels which are very funny, "Indian Bitters, or the Patent Medicine Man," and "What a Small Boy Can Do."

At the Opera House "Copping the Coin," which was highly enjoyed by a large crowd last night, will be repeated.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Anthony Power, who died Tuesday, a few minutes after he had been carried to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment, took place from St. Mary's Church at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Outler and the pallbearers were Messrs. James Roach, John Harlow, W. H. Desmond, T. McGowan, Thomas McDermott and John McKenna.

PATENT SHOE.

Messrs. H. G. Poss and C. E. Divine, managers of the Paff Shoe Factory, on south Washington street, are manufacturing a turned shoe with a double sole, which is meeting with favor among dealers, and orders for the same are increasing daily. An application for a patent for the device by which these shoes are made has been filed.

THE WEATHER.

Copious showers fell yesterday evening between 4 and 5 o'clock, but before night fell the skies had cleared. The rain slightly cooled the atmosphere and during the night the mercury got down among the seventies. Before 9 o'clock this morning it had gotten up to 80 and at noon it had reached the 90 mark again.

FAIRFAX FILES HIS CLAIM.

Albert Kirby Fairfax, a native of Virginia, has formally petitioned the House of Lords for leave to plead his claim to the peerage under the title and dignity of Lord Fairfax of Cameron.

Albert Kirby Fairfax was born in America and represented a Wall street banking firm in London until recently. Several months ago he went to London to urge his claim to the Fairfax peerage.

The petition he is now making is necessary to secure for him the legal use of the title. Lord Fairfax's claim to be Baron Fairfax has never been questioned and he is included in all the peerage lists and he is received in English society as a lord. The title does not carry the right to a seat in the House of Lords unless the bearer is legally elected as a representative peer of Scotland. Lord Fairfax is 37 years old.

PERSONAL.

Col. and Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, who are in Newport for the summer, entertained a party of young people last Saturday night, in honor of Miss Marshall, daughter of Brig. Gen. William Marshall, who recently succeeded Gen. Mackenzie as chief of Engineers, U. S. A. The guests were invited to dine and went afterwards to Freebody Park for the vaudville show.

Councilman John T. Harrison has returned from a visit to Baltimore. Mrs. Harrison is still in Baltimore, where she will remain for about three weeks.

Miss Marie Fannon has returned from a pleasant visit to Quebec, Niagara Falls and other places of interest.

Mr. James P. Machen, who has been on a visit to his son, Mr. L. H. Machen, in this city, has returned to his home near Centerville, Fairfax county.

Mr. G. W. Ramsay returned to Portsmouth last night where his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Brown, and her two children are still quite ill. He telegraphed today that the condition of all three had improved and was considered very favorable.

Mr. Lewis H. Machen, of this city, at the request of the committee on legislation and law reform of the Virginia State Bar Association, will read a paper at the meeting next month at Hot Springs of that association on the work done at the last session of the Virginia legislature. Mr. Machen, it will be remembered, wrote a daily review of the work of the legislature last winter for the Richmond Times Dispatch, and his paper will doubtless be an interesting one. At a previous meeting of the association Mr. Machen read a paper on divorce which attracted considerable attention.

The condition of Mr. Charles Bendheim, who has recently been confined to his home with typhoid fever, was unchanged today.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—SAMUEL BOYER, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson. Samples free.

[COMMUNICATED.

As a matter of information, and with no intention of criticising any official of the city government, I would like to ask if it is not possible to have that pile of dirt that has almost grown into a mountain removed from King street between Royal and Pitt. Protruding from its summit is a pole on which hangs a lamp and at night it reminds one of that parable in the Bible—it is without oil or light—and has been so all this week. It is probable that there is no law to remove the obstruction, but I am quite certain, even without codification, there is a law somewhere, to compel those responsible for the existence of this nuisance to place a danger signal on it. If someone is injured on account of the neglect of those responsible for the non-enforcement of existing laws on this subject, the city will find out, perhaps a little late, wherein the responsibility lies. Have it removed; it is an eyesore.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 23, 1908

In Forbidden Places.

A very large mastiff at one end of a leash and a very small girl at the other end formed a combination which attracted the attention of a casual pedestrian in a quiet side street.

The little girl doubtless thought that she was taking the dog out for an airing, but the big animal himself appeared to have the impression that he was the leader of the expedition, and, beyond question, the balance of power was entirely on his side. He dragged the girl along despite her scolding and expostulations at a pace which kept her breathless.

Suddenly, either from a whim of his own or because somebody had been in the habit of taking him there, he darted through the swinging doors of a corner saloon. The girl looked horrified; but, clinging determinedly to her end of the leash, she followed her charge, and as the doors swung shut behind her the casual pedestrian heard this exasperated remonstrance:

"Oh, darnfound it! Don't you know ladies don't go there? It's only a place for men!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Queer Feeding.

"Come and watch me feed my starfish."

The curator of the aquarium led the reporter to a tank where a half dozen starfish tripped over the sandy bottom on slim brown fingers.

"Grub time, boys," he said, and he dropped into the tank six mussels.

The fish ran to the mussels. Each applied his stomach to the hinge at the back of the shell. Silence and immobility ensued.

"The gastric juice of the starfish," said the curator, "is now melting the hinges of flesh that hold the mussel shells together. Ah, look, there's one melted now. There's another. It's the most powerful gastric juice in the world."

One by one, their hinges destroyed, the mussel shells opened, and into the openings the starfish thrust their stomachs. More silence, more immobility.

Then, a little plumper at the heart, the starfish went tripping daintily off, but the mussel shells lay open and empty on the sand.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Old Time Drunkenness.

In reviewing "The Early Married Life of Maria Josepha, Lady Stanley," the London Spectator comments on the light in which drunkenness was regarded at the beginning of the nineteenth century. There was a christening of twins and rejoicing among the neighbors, tenants and laborers. "All the guests," says Maria, "were as drunk as I ever had the pleasure of seeing any one." Among the laborers, however, "that extent of intoxication was not reached which causes men to be swine."

Lady Sheffield, who received this account of the festivities, replies: "I would have given a great deal to be present. There is nothing I love so much as such sort of festivities, where one has the satisfaction of knowing that one makes one's friends happy as well as drunk." In London, she declares, "when you give a ball you affront many people, please a few, make many drunk and yourself miserable."

Clay and the Salary Grab.

"Quinn," said an old member one day, "I heard you worrying about the mileage. Did you ever hear the story of Clay and the salary grab?"

"No," I replied.

"When Clay was speaker," he continued, "along about 1816, the crowd raised their salaries to $1,500 a year. There was a great howl all over the country, and when Clay reached home in Kentucky he found old one armed John Pope, a Federalist, out after his scalp to beat the band and all the Clay adherents ominously silent. Worried and anxious, Clay sought out his old barber, who had always been enthusiastic in his advocacy and who happened to be an Irishman. 'I trust I may count on your hearty support, as usual?' Clay asked. 'Faith, Mr. Clay,' said the Irish barber, 'I think I shall vote at this time for the man who can get but one hand into the treasury.'"—Success Magazine.

Needed a Big Dose.

The president of the Walters' club of New York in a recent argument on tipping said to his opponent sharply:

"Your reply is altogether beside the point and irrelevant. It reminds me of a woman's reply in a German court. This woman was accused of poisoning her husband. The prosecuting attorney said to her:

"'You have heard the evidence. The body contained enough arsenic to kill ten persons. What have you to say?'

"'My husband,' the woman answered, 'was a big eater.'"
